Hafnarfjörður

natural glacial water from Iceland - the cleanest environment on earth

The water is derived from the subterranean melt, flowing in the depths of the glaciers for hundreds of kilometers and is naturally filtered through layers of volcanic rock - resulting in perfectly natural water.

ICEIS glacier water with natural quality, unmatched by any other source in the world

perfectly pristine with a registered TDS: 55 mg/l

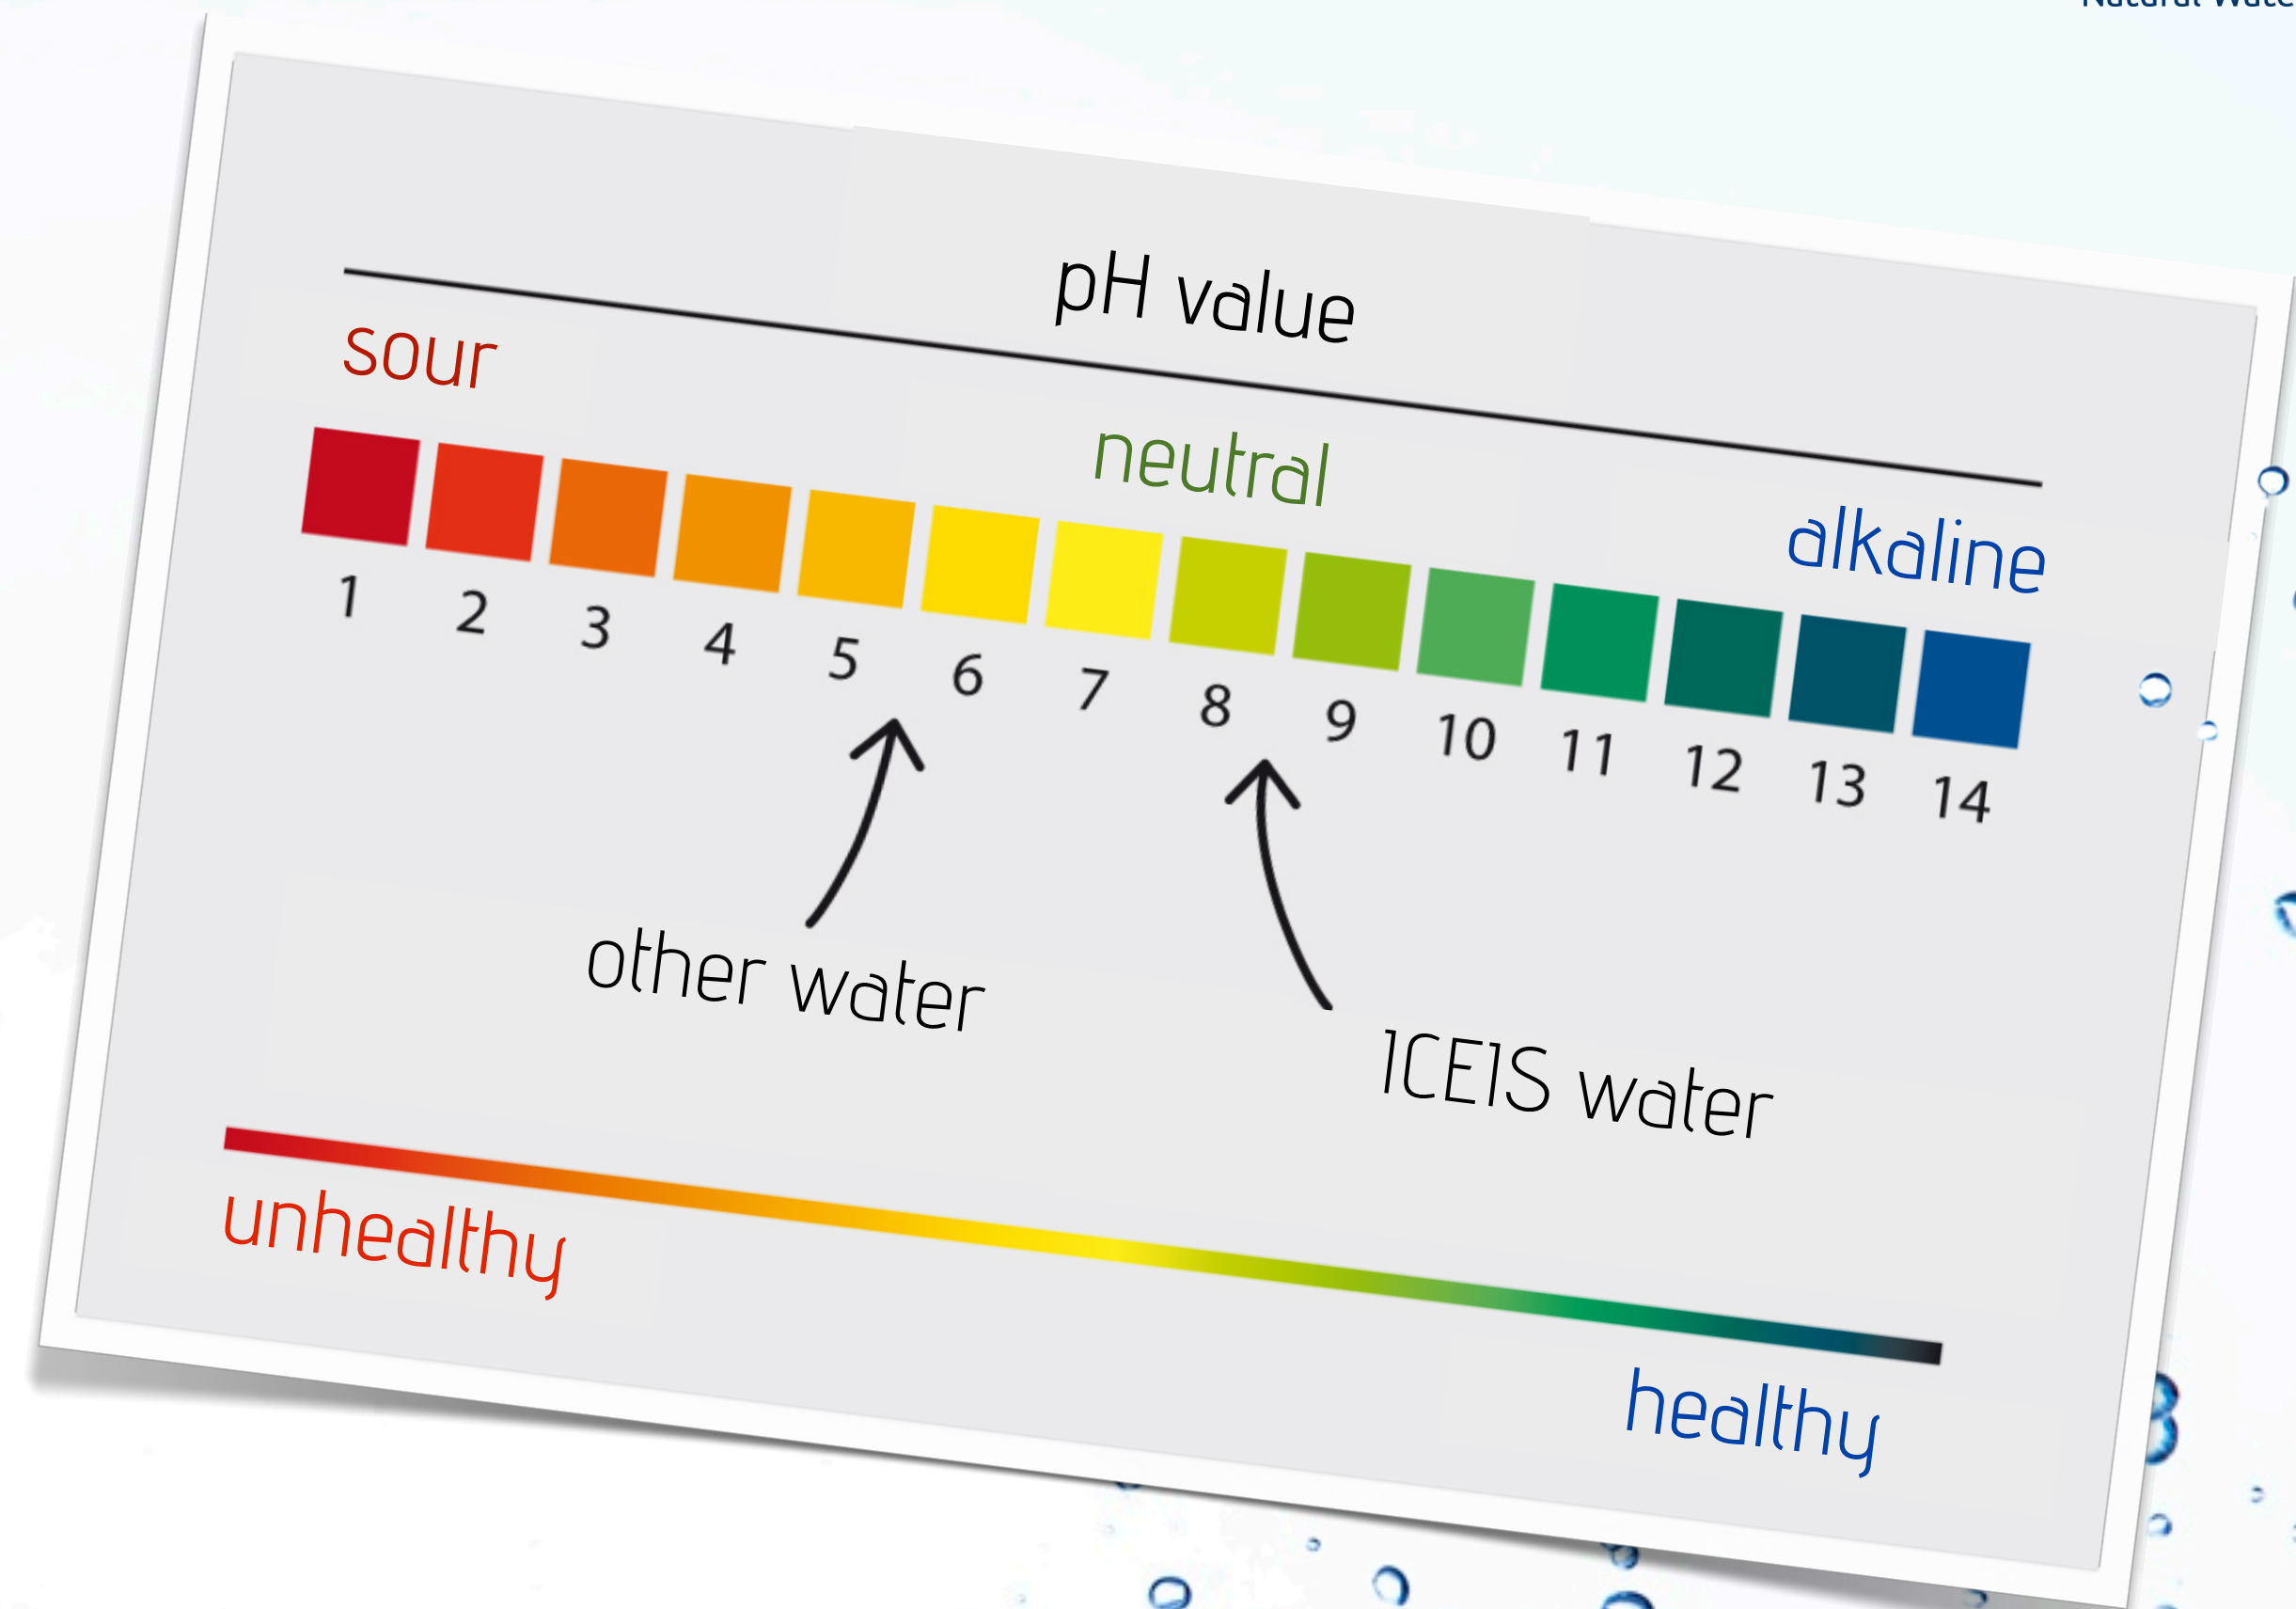

Because of the natural volcanic filter, our water is perfectly pristine compared to other premium waters on the market.

very high pH value of 8,5pH

ICEIS water has an alkaline pH value which regulates the acid-base balance of the body natural water with high oxygen count of 9,4 mg/l

ICEIS water contains a natural and high oxygen level. This elevates the oxygen absorption in the blood and helps to absorb more nutritious substances.

Healthy through ICEIS

Natural alkaline water organically delivers neutralizing isotopes improving blood circulation.

These factors increase resistance to microbial viruses and diseases and promote a general feeling well-being.

Healthy through ICEIS

Stops heartburn in a natural way

ICEIS water regulates the acid-base balance of the body and stops heartburn - the widespread results of acidity.

Healthy through ICEIS

Reduces arthralgia and raises productivity

Because of the natural an high oxygen level (9,4 mg/l) more oxygen gets into the blood and raises productivity, especially in sports activities.
